EP 2 196 105 A1

Description

[0001] This invention relates to a retractable applicator that can apply lotion to parts of the body that cannot be reached by a persons own hand eg, the persons back area. This is acheived by extending a flexible brush from a hand sized container. A lotion reservoir is maintained within the brush container 5

[0002] It is envisaged that excessive exposure to the sun could be reduced for any person, single or different gender, young or old, in circumstances where they require sun protection. 10
