UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

SAMUEL DUBERSTEIN, OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

CAP OR HAT.

1,412,171.

Application filed May 7, 1921. Serial No. 467,629.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, SAMUEL DUBERSTEIN, a citizen of the United States of America, residing at Brooklyn, in the county of Kings and State of New York, have invented certain new and useful Improvements in Caps or Hats, of which the following is a specification.

The present invention relates to caps, hats, or other head-gear and has for its object to equip the same with means whereby articles such as licenses, cards, time tables, scores on base ball games, memorandums, bills and also other articles such as cigars or the like may be conveniently carried therein.

The means may consist simply of a pocket recess c in which is inserted a strip 10 extending throughout the length of said recess and which may be folded upon itself at opposite ends as at 10' or may have attached to it separate pieces to form opposite pockets 11. The longitudinal edges of this strip 10 are stitched at 10' to the downwardly folded corresponding longitudinal edges b' of the lining b. The pockets 11 may preferably be spaced apart to facilitate the insertion of the ends of a card into the opposite pockets and also to form a space 10' through which matter printed or written on a card will on removal of the hat or cap be exposed to the view thereby eliminating the necessity of removing the card from the pockets. Thus, for instance, a score card A held with the ends in the pocket can be read without removing the same from the pockets.

I claim:

1. In a cap or hat, an inner lining cut out to form a recess and a strip of flexible material inserted into said recess and fixed to said lining; said strip being folded upon itself in opposite directions to form opposite pockets.

2. In a cap or hat, an inner lining cut out to form a recess, and a strip of flexible material inserted into said recess and folded upon itself longitudinally in opposite directions to form opposite pockets, the edges of said strip being stitched to those of the recess.

In testimony whereof I affix my signature in presence of two witnesses.

SAMUEL DUBERSTEIN.
