(54) Title: PASSWORD PROTECTION SYSTEM AND METHOD

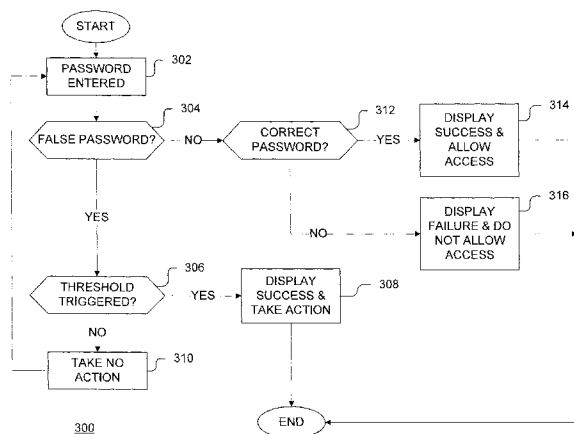

FIG. 3

(57) Abstract: A method, system, and device for password protection for a computer or other electronic device are provided, including providing one or more false passwords that outwardly cause the computer or other electronic device to behave as if a correct password was entered and that inwardly cause the computer or other electronic device to behave differently than as if the correct password was entered; and taking a predetermined action when one of the false passwords is entered.
