(54) Title: SYSTEM AND DEVICE FOR MONITORING MULTIPLE PARAMETERS IN OBJECTS

(57) Abstract: This invention relates to a system and device for monitoring multiple parameters in objects. This is an integrated multi-functional, digital system and is designed for continuous monitoring, communicating, tracking and locating objects. The system has two or more separate mobile transceivers. Each Transceiver can be a separate piece or embedded in plurality of objects. The transceiver is interfaced with external network, device, security/alarm systems, depending on the requirement. The system has means to initiate single/series of action using the appropriate communication tools. The system has input and output devices, for display of parameter values.
