To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, Everett E. Fig. 1 is a front elevational view of the canister showing my new design;

The body and top cover of the canister are in contrasting colors; and the floral designs on the body are so arranged that when the canister is viewed elevationally from different angles the floral designs may be seen in groupings of three, four and five, Figs. 1 and 2 showing these floral designs in groupings of three and four.

I claim:

The ornamental design for a canister substantially as shown and described.
