(54) A roller system for a roller shutter system and a roller shutter system

(57) The present invention relates to a roller system for a roller shutter system and to a roller shutter system. The roller system comprises first bar (10), a spring (20) encasing the first bar, a tube (30) encasing the spring; a tube sliding-proof rubber (1a), a left roller sleeving (2a), a roller retainer (3a) and a reeling roller (4a) mounted in sequence on a left end of the tube; and a tube sliding-proof rubber, a right roller sleeving, a roller retainer and a reeling roller (4c) mounted in sequence on a right end of the tube. A rolling shutter system of the present invention comprises a left side plate, a right side plate and the afore-mentioned roller system mounted between the the left and right side plates and a rolling curtain body coiling around the roller system. The roller system of the present invention is handy and fast to mount e.g. onto the side plates of a cabinet of a roller shutter system.
