UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

HARRY THAYER KINGSBURY, OF KEENE, NEW HAMPSHIRE.

DESIGN FOR A TOY-WAGON BODY-BLANK.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Design No. 35,116, dated September 17, 1901.

Application filed August 6, 1901. Serial No. 71,108. Term of patent 7 years.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, HARRY THAYER KINGSBURY, a citizen of the United States, residing at Keene, in the county of Cheshire, State of New Hampshire, have invented and produced a certain new and original Design for Toy-Wagon Body-Blanks, of which the following is a description, reference being had to the accompanying drawing and to the letters of reference marked thereon.

My invention relates to a new and original design for toy-wagon body-blanks; and it consists in a blank of the shape and configuration hereinafter described.

The drawing represents a plan view of a toy-wagon body-blank embodying my design.

In the drawing the central portion A of the body-blank is provided at one end with the projection or tongue B and at the other end with the projection or tongue C, each being provided with slits a, these projecting tongues being curved on their outer edges and wider thereat than at the point where they are joined to the central portion A. Small lugs or projections b are also provided, as shown. Adjacent either end the central portion has the perforated projecting side lugs c. Adjacent the sides of the central portion the body of the blank is cut away to form openings D, connected with the body portion by the sections of material d, the side edges of the body-blank being shown at E.

The leading feature of the design consists of the body-blank having the projecting end pieces and the side pieces.

Having thus described my invention, what I claim, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—

The design for a toy-wagon body-blank; substantially as shown and described.

In testimony whereof I affix my signature in presence of two witnesses.

HARRY THAYER KINGSBURY.
