(54) Lighter with a bulb imitating a flame

(57) Consists in a disposable or rechargeable lighter (Fig. 1&2) which the interior has been transformed to contain batteries and a specific bulb imitating a flame. The pusher or lever depending on the model, also received a transformation to act as a push button or switch, and once pressed upon or the lid opened, the bulb will turn on giving the aspect of a real gas or gasoline lighter.

Exists gas and gasoline lighters manufactured in plastic or metal and also torches which are designed to illuminate specific areas. There are also lighters attached to torches and to other devices, used normally for camping or sports.

This false lighter have been designed for film, television and music industry, specially when the usage is required for a long period, avoiding the danger of deformations, explosions or bums which often happens with the real lighters.
