(54) Title: SELF-CONTAINED MERCHANDISING CONTAINER DISPLAY

- (57) Abstract: A self-contained merchandising container display (100) comprises a plurality of stacked containers (114) and a base (150). Each of the containers includes a continuous body portion, a rim and a feature (120). The rim encompasses and projects laterally outwardly from the body portion. The base is adapted to hold and contain the plurality of stacked containers in a generally upright position such that at least a portion of the feature of one of the plurality of stacked containers is exposed to the consumer. The base is made of a generally rigid material. The base includes information calling attention to the feature .
