A swimming glove having finger and thumb receiving portions, webs between said finger and thumb receiving portions, there being an opening formed in the palm portion of the body of the glove, there being a plurality of longitudinally disposed slots formed in the back portion of the body of the glove, the palm and back section of the glove terminating immediately to the rear of the thumb portion of the glove so as to leave the rear portion of the palm of the wearer exposed, and fastening means for securing the rear portion of the glove around the palm and back portion of the wearer's hand.

In testimony whereof I have signed my name to this specification.

JOHN B. INGRAM.