(54) Title: METHOD AND APPARATUS AND SYSTEM FOR PERFORMING SEAMLESS MOBILITY

(57) Abstract: An independent server is established to track the state of content being rendered on a client device. A content server (alternatively referred to as an application server) maintains a backchannel with the independent server and updates session state. When migrating content from a first client device to a second client device, the second client device will access the server prior to rendering the content. Upon accessing the server, the second client device will be provided with the state of the current session.
