37598. Holder for a shaving unit. B 26 B 21/08.
WILKINSON SWORD LIMITED. 4 May 1973 (712/73). [Great Britain 16 May 1972].

A holder 12 for a shaving unit includes a rigid member 10 to which one or more razor blades 11 is secured with the member 10 having a guard surface 10a located at a pre-set spacing from the cutting edge 11a of the blade. The holder 12 is provided with ejecting means 15 for ejecting a shaving unit from the holder when the shaving unit is to be replaced. The ejecting means 15 is a unitary member which has a latch portion 15a adapted to secure a shaving unit in the holder as by engaging in an aperture 10b in the underside of the member 10. The ejecting means, has two coupled limbs on one of which is the latch portion 15a and on the other of which is formed a head 15c. On applying pressure to the rear of the ejecting means, as for example to a button portion 15b, the head 15c engages the member 10 which is then ejected from the holder 12.
