(54) Information outputting apparatus and method, information recording apparatus and method, information outputting recording system and information recording medium

(57) An information outputting apparatus (BX) for outputting recording information (Sin) to be recorded in a recording medium (1) by an information recording apparatus (R) to the information recording apparatus (R) is provided. In the case that the recording information received in the information outputting apparatus such as a set top box (BX) is transmitted to a recorder (R) and further it is recorded in the recording medium such as a DVD-R (1), at first, after the recording medium (1) is loaded in the recorder (R) and before the recording information is recorded in the recording medium (1), an obtaining device such as a CPU (25) obtains the identification information (ID) of the recording medium (1). Then, an encrypting device (29) encrypts the recording information by using the obtained identification information (ID). Further, an outputting device such as an interface unit (30) outputs the encrypted recording information to the recorder (R).
