(54) Title: METHOD FOR SIMULATED WAP PUSH

(57) Abstract: A method for processing a request from a mobile terminal requiring a processing time exceeding a request timeout period is disclosed. A request for a selected action is received at a WAP server from a mobile terminal. The request is processed for the selected action. While the request is being processed, an indication is provided to the mobile terminal that the request is being processed. Upon completion of the request, the mobile terminal is notified of completion of processing of the requested action.
