(54) Title: ADAPTIVE CONTENT PLATFORM AND APPLICATION INTEGRATION WITH THE PLATFORM

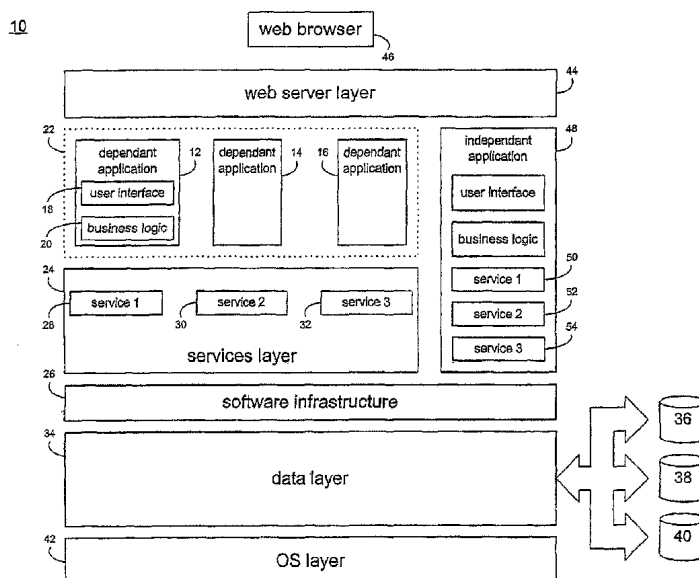

Fig. 1

(57) Abstract: An adaptive content platform (10) and application integration of with the platform is described. The adaptive content platform includes one or more content-enabled, dependant applications (12) forming an application layer (22) and a services layer (24) that has services shared by the each of the one or more content-enabled, dependant applications. The services layer includes at least workflow, repository, and publishing services. Each content-enabled, dependant application is object modeled in the repository services (102) in a hierarchical structure. The object types modeled in the repository may have content associated with them. The content may be stored in a data layer that is in communications with the services layer.

A. CLASSIFICATION OF SUBJECT MATTER

IPC: G06F 3/00(2006.01);G06F 7/00(2006.01);G06F 9/44(2006.01)

USPC: 715/744,707/3,717/100

According to International Patent Classification (IPC) or to both national classification and IPC

B. FIELDS SEARCHED

Minimum documentation searched (classification system followed by classification symbols)

U.S. : 715/744,707/3,717/100

Documentation searched other than minimum documentation to the extent that such documents are included in the fields searched

Electronic data base consulted during the international search (name of data base and, where practicable, search terms used)

C. DOCUMENTS CONSIDERED TO BE RELEVANT

☐ See patent family annex.

* Special categories of cited documents:

"A" document defining the general state of the art which is not considered to be of particular relevance

"E" earlier application or patent published on or after the international filing date

"L" document which may throw doubts on priority claim(s) or which is cited to establish the publication date of another citation or other special reason (as specified)

"O" document referring to an oral disclosure, use, exhibition or other means

"P" document published prior to the international filing date but later than the priority date claimed

later document published after the international filing date or priority date and not in conflict with the application but cited to understand the principle or theory underlying the invention

document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered novel or cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is taken alone

document of particular relevance; the claimed invention cannot be considered to involve an inventive step when the document is combined with one or more other such documents, such combination being obvious to a person skilled in the art

document member of the same patent family
