(54) Title: EDITING MENU FOR A NETWORK TELEVISION

[Fig. 38]

(57) Abstract: A network TV includes a network interface, a user interface, and a controller. The network interface establishes a connection with at least one content provider server through a network. The user interface receives an input signal selecting an icon for display. The controller controls output of the selected icon for display along with an image corresponding to the selected icon. The selected icon corresponds to the content provider and is displayed with one or more other icons that correspond to additional content providers, and the image is based on information received through the network interface from the content provider. Further, a main menu on the display includes a background image and/or icons that display various types of information. The displayed background image and/or icons may be changed or customized.
