Title: NANO-SIZED HALOGENATED FLAME RETARDANTS

Abstract: Novel flame retardant compositions containing a plurality of nano-sized particles of halogenated, in particular brominated, flame retardants and processes for their preparation are disclosed. Further disclosed are formulations containing these compositions and articles-of-manufacture having these formulations applied thereon. These novel formulations are particularly effective as textile flame retardants, requiring a low amount of binder and characterized by high washing fastness.
