- (54) Title: SINGLE SIGN-ON USER REGISTRATION FOR ONLINE OR CLIENT ACCOUNT SERVICES

FIG. 1

(57) Abstract: Providing for single sign on (SSO) registration for local or network applications in conjunction with a multimedia display device is described herein. By way of example, SSO registration can comprise creating a registration account and linking one or more local or network applications with the registration account. SSO registration can facilitate auto-filling user data requests submitted by registration servers associated with the applications, in conjunction with registering a user for content or services provided by the respective applications. User verification, where requested, can be facilitated by digital certificate or other secure communication. Once registration is completed, a user can access content provided by an application by activating a linked application at the multimedia display device, or a remote device.
