UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

SPENCER C. CARY, OF BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

DESIGN FOR A PIPE-FASTENER.

SPECIFICATION forming part of Design No. 28,422, dated March 29, 1898.

Application filed February 25, 1898. Serial No. 671,697. Term of patent 14 years.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, SPENCER C. CARY, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of Brooklyn, in the county of Kings and State
5 of New York, have invented a certain new and useful Design for a Pipe-Fastener, of which the following is a specification, reference being had to the accompanying drawings, forming part of the same, in which—

10 Figure 1 is a perspective view of a pipe-fastener embodying my new design, and Fig. 2 is an edge view of the same.

The fastener consists of a strip of material (I use metal) provided with two end pieces P P' and a middle portion C, the end pieces being 15 in the form of flat plates, with one or more apertures a through them, from the side edges of which prongs p extend downward, and the middle portion, extending from the inner side 20 of one flat end piece to the inner side of the other end piece, is curved, so that its edge, as shown in Fig. 2, is substantially in the form of a half-circle, and the essential features of such design are a central portion, the edge of which is bounded by a curve substantially as 25 shown, and two ends extending oppositely from said central portion, each of which is a flat plate with apertures therethrough, from the side edges of which tangs extend downward, all substantially as shown and de-30 scribed.

What I claim as my invention, and desire to secure by Letters Patent, is—

The design for a pipe-fastener as herein shown and described. 35

Signed at New York, in the county of New York and State of New York, this 23d day of February, A. D. 1898.
