DESIGN.
M. V. MAAG.
LADY'S WIRE COLLAR.
APPLICATION FILED MAY 20, 1908.

Patented Sept. 22, 1908.

39,581.

Witnesses:
Frank Reno
Lucie Russell

Inventor:
Mary V. Maag

By
Freda Mulack
her att'y

THE ROMAN PETERS CO., WASHINGTON, D.C.
UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE.

MARY V. MAAG, OF CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

DESIGN FOR A LADY'S WIRE COLLAR.

To all whom it may concern:

Be it known that I, MARY V. MAAG, a citizen of the United States, residing at Chicago, in the county of Cook and State of Illinois, have invented a new and ornamental Design for Ladies' Wire Collars, of which the following is a specification, reference being had to the accompanying drawing, forming part thereof.

The drawing is a perspective of a collar embodying the new design.

The collar is characterized by being formed of wire bent to form a series of rectangular portions and short laterally extending connecting-portions between the rectangular portions as shown in the drawing.

I claim:

The ornamental design for ladies' wire collar as shown and described.

MARY V. MAAG.

Witnesses:

FRED GERLACH,
LEONE S. RUSSELL.